Do you dream of getting a blonde hair? Or are you just looking for new summer hair ideas?

There is always a blonde shade that suits you. And it is still true even if your hair and your skin tones are dark. May be that is the reason for the blond to be the most popular hair color especially during warm months.

In this article we suggest you some tips to make your hair a bit blondish and absolutely gorgeous.

In summer many brunettes want to become blonde. If your hair is in brunette tone do not color all over it. Some caramel highlights look great on shoulder length brunette hair. You can create textured waves and caramel highlights to reflect sunshine and produce dazzling effect.

There are some things to know about if your hair is long. Damaged and dull long hair should be deeply conditioned before coloring. In fact, you need to make conditioning a regular part of your hair treatment. The longer your hair is the older it appears to be. The ends on your hair are commonly more damaged than the roots. That is why long hair needs constant vitalizing and special treatment.

Soft and wavy hair styles are the ones that look great in vanilla blonde color. There are special products that are applicable even to long and already colored hair. Both waving techniques and coloring are really soft and gentle. There are special products available for each hair type.

You were able to see that lots of variants were available. So the problem is to find the right blonde for you. The main rule is to consider your skin tones and eye color before choosing a new hair shade. Sometimes warmer colors are preferable, since they lift and freshen the overall look. For instance, if your hair has already been bleached some time ago and you would like to hide the darker roots, you could change your entire color to a warmer blonde tone. And do not bleach it again! It needs certain time to relax and gain its power again. Keep in mind that a new hair color doubles its affect when combined with a new hair style.

For those who have light brown base color layering the colors may give an exciting look. Try a multi-coloring technique. Applying the highlights in different shades will provide a unique and all new look. Here it is better to keep the layers underneath the darker hair. This type of hair styling looks especially great on medium-length hair with side bangs.

We hope these blonde hair color suggestions will make your summer brighter and more exciting. Coloring your hair not only changes your appearance, but it lifts your mood and self-esteem. This could be the reason for changing your hair color during cold months too.
